Hettman for recorder.

REV. JIMMIE MERCER ON YOUTH PROGRAM

Speaks on "Marks of a Christian" at Masonic Temple.

At a Marion Youth for Christ meeting Saturday night in the Masonic Temple, Rev. Jimmie Mercer of Detroit, Mich., spoke and made up a large part of the program.

The men opened with piano music by Miss Frances Tandy and Paul Little Beasley. Played was Rev. George Smith of Shreveport, who accompanied a group of young people here from that city. Miss Dorothy Cooper played the harmonium and accompanied Peggy and Polly Lee and Betty Oberman and two others, and the girls sang a duet. Their numbers were: "Love of God," "I Am a Christian," "The Word of God," "Jesus," "The Old Olive Tree." A brass band over radio station WWDH began at 8:15 p.m. with the organist singing "He Holds My Hand." Rev. Marvin Lewis offered prayer. Howard Goff read "There I Met Jesus," and总结。

Two hours of official meetings were given by the girls. An audience selected unit is the temple.

"The Farm Is Ours" was played 6,000 Trees Planted by Scouts at Camp Bay Scouts from Marion and McAdams on the Youth for Christ grounds which met at more than 6,000 trees Saturday at Boy Scout Camp, the preceding Marion Camp. Over 500 trees were planted by a group from Rev. Tom Smith of Marion. The trees included yellow poplar, white pine, red spruce, the white birch, white pine, and more than 150 Boy Scouts participated in the tree-planting program. The planting started at 8 a.m. Saturday and continued until mid-afternoon, with the trees being set in various sections of the hills of Hildreth, which stand at the sides of the Reznor.

That's worth importance for this year can only be eradicated by moral rehabilitation. You can keep the malfeasance quiet by armed might, and you may achieve a partial demilitarization of Germany through a total power; 25-year martial law.

Such is the reason why the United States proposes, but you can't reform the Nazis that way. Reform must come through a change of heart.

I encountered this politico-religious movement when I was in Germany two months ago. It was then well under way and represented the combination which its name indicates—people who subscribe to the tenets of Christianity, Protestantism, and undoubtedly some who subscribe to that code of right—joined hands, and whose emphasis is laid on the Christian principles.

I found the military authorities in both the American and the British zones utilizing fully the efforts of these workers for moral rehabilitation. At that time there had been no real test of strength at the polls, but it certainly is encouraging to see that they have won such an overwhelming battle with the ballot. Hitler deliberately set out to debauch his people, and he succeeded with a huge section of them, but obviously there were many staunch citizens whom he didn't corrupt, and they now form the nucleus of the army or moral rehabilitation.

The combination of the religious for the eradication of Hitlerism doesn't mean, of course, that the denominational work has been suspended. We had, for instance, the announcement a couple of weeks ago by the American military government that the famous pastor Martin Niemoller expected to lead a reform movement throughout German Protestantism to eradicate all vestiges of Nazi control. The Catholic church with its big German membership also is continuing denominational activities. But for the purposes of political work these two great religious bodies are giving the world a fine demonstration of cooperation for the universal welfare.

Pastor Niemoller has declared that he thinks delays by the Allies in determining Germany's future are the greatest obstacle to destroying the last of Nazism. He says some younger Germans "are clinging to national socialism like a man in the open sea clings to a plank, not because it is a very strong plank but because it is all he has. The young people just do not see the other plank. They must be shown something which makes democracy alluring."

Maybe, but that isn't the whole story by a long shot. It's quite as much a matter of moral collapse as it is of political uncertainty, as I see it. And, as already remarked, Germany isn't alone on the continent in this moral sickness.

Mackenzie Hails Christian Party Victory in Reich

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The stunning victory of Germany's new political party, the Christian Social Union, in the recent general elections in the American zone, would be recognized as a major victory, with the three-point lead not far off either rye bread or white bread.

Joseph L. Schlesier, Soviet delegate to the American zone, said privately that housewives were pay more for white bread and other kinds.

Bakers, the official said, are not content with a rise in the price of bread, but the rule were simple.

The rye bread hike of two cents was effective immediately, prices re-tal prices to 11 and 12 cents for most one-pound loaves. OPA said it will remain in effect at least until June 30 when the agency will re-examine baker's costs to determine whether the higher

OPA Orders Boost in Rye Bread Cost

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON, April 29—OPA today raised retail prices for most rye bread two cents a one-pound loaf.

As an official of the agency told a reporter privately that housewives were pay more for white bread and other kinds.

Bakers, the official said, are not content with a rise in the price of bread, but the rule were simple.

No quarreling at the table, no making faces, no slapping the mouth with food like an ape or eating on both sides of the mouth at once; no laughing when the mouth is full; no noise made in wiping the mouth, no wiping of fingers on the tablecloth, no spitting across the table.

These are the general rules governing housewife's 10th annual Chaucer banquet at Wooster College, the first such affair since war end. The banquet was begun by Prof. George W. Bradford to give his students an idea of how Chaucer lived.

Students will banquet in the English style of 600 years ago, featuring a lack of dining implements plus period costumes and entertainment.

Members of the class dressed in costumes of Chaucer's time, will parade around the campus tonight

Entertainment will include motion pictures featuring the New Britain campaign, shown by Capt. Edwin Beckham, local Army recruiting officer. Other members of the Army recruiting staff have been invited.

The program is under the direction of corporals of the company and Capt. Carl Markley of the cook staff is in charge of refreshments.

Purpura

The truly marvelous precision of the body's construction is not often realized until disease intervenes to call attention to its normal and usual perfection.

Take the capillaries, for instance, those smallest of blood vessels which extend in a network through all the tissues of the body. Exceedingly tiny, exceedingly thin-walled, exceedingly fragile, they still have important work to do, and it is their very fragility which enables them to do it.

Their task is to bring the blood with all its life-giving elements into closest possible contact with hungry tissues, without at the same time allowing it to escape into them. This control over the over-active blood by the delicate tissue-paper capillary wall is one of the most remarkable of all the body's very remarkable powers.

Yet, even in a while, through some not well-understood weakness, the capillaries fail in their job. The blood seeps through, with the result that there is bleeding into the skin and even into the mucous membranes and inner organs. This disorder is called purpura.

Nevertheless, according to Doctor Sidney C. Dyke of England, changes in the make-up of the blood are not the main factor in this disease. It is essentially due to capillary weakness. The lack of blood platelets, even though it always occurs in thrombocytopenic purpura, is not the actual cause of the trouble.

The bleeding may be in the form of tiny red spots called petechiae or there may be much larger spots of dark red or purple color.

There are different kinds of purpura. However, in general there are two classes—the purpura known as thrombocytopenic purpura in which there is a reduction of the number of blood platelets and the other type known as non-thrombocytopenic purpura, in which no such reduction occurs.

The blood platelets are tiny bits of tissue which have to do with the clotting of the blood.

In the normal blood there are between 200,000 and 300,000 platelets present per cubic centimeter of blood. Bleeding into the skin is likely to occur when the number falls below 80,000 per cubic centimeter of blood.

Thrombocytopenic purpura, or the type in which the platelets are decreased, occurs most often in children and young adults and rarely appears after the age of 40.

When the condition first starts it is often found that bruising occurs easily. Sometimes there may be nosebleed. Then a few scattered which definitely cannot transfer cancer, a non-contagious disease.

Guard those you love gives to conquer cancer

petechiae will be noted on the skin surface.

In some cases, the disorder starts more suddenly with large hemorrhages into the mucous membrane, as well as into the skin. In girls the condition may first show itself at the beginning of the monthly periods which are prolonged over many days.

As far as the treatment of thrombocytopenic purpura is concerned, Dr. Dyke believes that removal of the spleen will put an immediate and dramatic stop to all of the bleeding. The spleen is located in the left upper part of the abdomen.

Just what relation it has to this disorder is not known except that its removal is followed by a rise in the number of platelets in the blood over a number of days although the bleeding stops immediately with removal of the spleen.

When purpura has been present long enough to produce anemia or lessening of the coloring in the blood, it may be advisable to have injections of blood into a vein before the operation for removal of the spleen is carried out.

It is not difficult to diagnose thrombocytopenic purpura if the number of platelets in the blood is determined.

Hints on How To Save Food for Starving

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON, April 30—Set an extra place at the dinner table. Imagine a starving man is your guest.

Will you feed him? He is waiting today in the famine countries of the world for your answer.

There are ways to help him, as simple as setting a table, as direct as if you served his plate yourself.

He needs bread, meat, poultry, fish instead of fats.

Use saved fats for gravy, sauces, flavoring of soups and vegetables, salad dressing, quickbreads, stuffings for poultry or meat. "Butter" bread crumbs in it.

A teaspoon of fat saves each day by every man, woman and school child, will mean a total saving of a million pounds of fat a year.

Here are ways you can save them, suggested by the bureau of home economist of the agriculture department:

Serve only one slice of bread to each person at dinner. Let the Watch that toaster. Burned bread feeds nobody.

Use dry bread in bread puddings. Or in baked fruit scallops, made of bread and canned or fresh fruit, a little sweetening and fat.

Dry bread makes good toast, not only plain but French, cinnamon and Melba, down.—Ad.

Keep bread, wrapped in moisture-proof paper, in the keeping bread box. Dry bread can be used but moldy bread is a total waste.

Don't trim off or discard sandwich crusts. Turn odds and ends of bread into dry crumbs for stuffing, fraying and topping baked dishes. Try open-faced sandwiches.

To save fats, bake, broil or steam meat, poultry, fish instead of frying.

Serve fresh fruits for desserts in place of pastry or cake.

United Nations Opens Probe of Franco Spain

Major Powers Condemn Regime in Ordering Check on Threat to Peace.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 30.—The first investigating subcommittee of the United Nations security council began compiling evidence in secrecy today to determine whether Franco Spain阴谋 the peace is charged by Poland. In the first phase of an inquiry authorized yesterday by a resolution stamping the council's unanimous moral condemnation of the Franco regime, the subcommittee decided it was committed to keep certain submitted documents confidential.

The subcommittee called first for data on Spain now, in the hope it will be supplemented by other evidence including that of Spanish Republican leaders exiled in Paris.

Sources Not Revealed

The investigation did not disclose the sources of documents on Spain which are claimed as too confidential to be made public now and there was no indication that information in them would offer any help.

As it began its inquiries the subcommittee was confronted with the probability that new evidence would be fed to it from both Russia and the Spanish republicans.

Shortly after the subcommittee was named by the council on a ballot of ten representative states with Russia abstaining, the Moscow radio last night said a signed draft of a secret 1933 Spanish-German military protocol had been captured in the German foreign ministry during the battle of Berlin more than a year ago.

The exiled Spanish republicans indicated Prime Minister Jose Giral of the exiled regime was expected to arrive here from Paris at any moment with new information.

Although the Spanish republicans in observers regarded the council's appointment of a subcommittee as a necessary minimum measure of action and accepted it with reservations they said their views on Franco certainly would be laid before the inquiry.

Reds Print Pact of Hitler, Franco

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 30.—The Soviet press published today photostatic copies of documents which it said confirmed the signing of a secret military alliance between Hitler Germany and Franco Spain in Madrid on Feb. 12, 1943.

The Russian news agency Tass said the documents were discovered by Red army intelligence officers in the archives of the German foreign ministry during the battle for Berlin.

The broadcast said the documents showed that when Generalissimo Francisco Franco informed Hitler he undertook at the appropriate moment to come out against the Allied Armies.

It is clearly evident from the documents that in fact a military alliance between Hitler and Germany and France Spain existed long before the signature of a secret military protocol which only juridically formalized this alliance, the radio continued.

SCHACHT RAPS VIEWS OF TWO U. S. DIPLOMATS

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Germany, April 30.—Hjalmar Schacht on trial with 22 other Germans as a war criminal vigorously assailed to day the statements of two American diplomats against him.

If diplomatic reporting is so unreliable everywhere it is small wonder that nations have so much trouble getting along together, the former Reichsbank president and minister of economics told the international tribunal by George Messersmith, attorney.

Schacht angrily attacked an anonymous U. S. ambassador to Argentina which said the defendant repeatedly told him of Germany's plans for aggression. He also challenged the credibility of the published diary of the late William Dodd, former U. S. ambassador to Germany.

Vandenbergs Pledges Fight for Treaty

By The Associated Press

PARIS, April 30.—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R. Mich.) said today that if Britain, Russia and France accepted Secretary of State James F. Byrnes' proposal on a German disarmament treaty, he would fight vigorously to put it through the Senate.

Vandenberg is a member of the delegation which accompanied Secretary Byrnes to Paris for the current foreign ministers conference.

This is clearly the effective formula for dependable security against re-urgent Axis military aggression, he said in a brief statement. Equally it is the formula to clear the air of false issues in mapping the postwar world.

I completely support Secretary Byrnes' able and courageous presentation of the matter.

OBJECTS TO RAISE
MEN'S SUIT PRICES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30.—OPA seeking to prevent any interruption in deliveries of men's suits expects to announce shortly a liberalized price regulation on these garments.

Officials who asked to remain anonymous said today the agency will ease its criticized maximum average price order as it applies to suits.

A clothing industry official learned recently that unless this was done, manufacturers would be forced to halt suit shipments beginning tomorrow.

The New Order will take into account price ceiling adjustments authorized by OPA last March. The effect of this will be to give manufacturers a higher maximum average price.

This means that producers will be permitted to deliver more high-price merchandise but it will not change existing price ceilings on individual garments.

Under the average price regulation as it stands, manufacturers are forbidden to exceed their average prices of a base period usually 1943. The purpose of this is to maintain production of low-cost suits.

Manufacturers who do not comply with the regulation during a quarterly period nor come into compliance within 30 days thereafter—May 1 in this case—are not permitted to continue shipments except under certain circumstances.

Suit producers have contended that price adjustments authorized March have made it impossible for them to comply with the average price order.

Fackler charged the 30 cent bonus offered for corn and wheat to send to foreign lands is unfair to farmers who sold grain to livestock and poultry raisers in the belief grain prices were stabilized.

The 30 cent bonus is the only method to get round OPA and we want to know why Anderson has any more right than anyone else to do in the black market.

Fackler said.

National Chamber of Commerce itself.

Chamber directors voted last night to bring to the convention floor a resolution urging that the date for the elimination of all such controls be Oct. 31, 1946.

It would be suicidal if price control was abolished immediately, Johnston said in an interview.

Businessmen have not yet been conditioned for such a step. They must be educated to hold prices in line. The worst thing that could happen to us would be for prices to spiral and for us to have a period of boom and bust.

He said he felt a definite date should be set for the abolition of OPA and added he thought this date should be sometime next year.

Says Farmers May Have To Cut Output

By The Associated Press

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 30.—Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson said today unless there is nationwide high productivity and full employment the time will come when farmers must resort to restricted output to protect their prices.

Unless people are able to buy up prices all the balanced production that agriculture can turn out farmers soon will be going broke and consumers going hungry, Anderson said in an address prepared for the United States Chamber of Commerce.

An attempt should be made by him to shape farm production to the demands of domestic and import markets. On many farms it would be a major undertaking to change over from products the people are used to raising to unfamiliar ones that are needed more, Anderson conceded. Special credit facilities technical aid and training programs probably would be needed he said.

To be realistic, Anderson continued, we have to face the possibility that we may fall far short of achieving national full employment for a time in that event.

He explained progress for subsidizing farm products by low-income families probably would be best for agriculture as well as for the nation as a whole.

But eventually farmers in self-defense would have to fall back on retribution to protect prices.

We do not have to go that way and agriculture can bring its big part in building a solid prosperity—if it can—that is if the rest of the economy does its share.

CARDS GET ADVICE FROM TRAUTMAN AT OPENING BANQUET

"Give Baseball Your Best," Tiger Boss Tells Audience at "Meet the Team" Dinner

"There is plenty of room at the top in baseball," George M. Trautman, vice president and general manager of the Detroit Tigers told the 1946 Marion Cardinals at the first annual baseball banquet last night. "But the long road upward is only traveled by giving the game the best you have."

The Marion Cardinals, presented to the 400 persons who filled the Masonic Temple, were the guests of honor at the banquet sponsored by the inter-club council. Eighteen players were introduced by Manager Wally Seydel. The Cardinals open their Ohio State League season tonight at 8 with Lima invading Lincoln Park. (Details on Page One).

Given The Lowdown

Trautman sketched anecdotes from his long career in sports and outlined to the players many of them beginning their first year in the game. The glamor and heartbreak, glory and tragedy of baseball. Trautman, a native of Bucyrus, has long been identified with Ohio sports, particularly around Columbus.

Players presented to Marion fans were Joe Roseberry, Melvin Wielbel, Charles Frey, Stephen Lazar, Jim Lilly, Bill Seydel, Sebastian Schneider, Lee Perini, Angelo Veneri, Don Dix, Raymond Hales, Vernon Rapp, Joe Palsler, Fred Pass, Douglas Nicholson, Bill MacFarland, David Molloy and Jim Myers.

Also introduced were Mrs. Roseberry, Mrs. Dix and Mrs. Myers.

The welcoming address was given by Mayor Harry L. Dowler and responded to by Judge W. Dexter Hazen, president of the Marion Cardinals. Wilson B. Twiss served as master of ceremonies and Rev. Howard L. Oelwiller and Rev. E. H. Klutney gave the invocation and benediction respectively.

Emmett "Turk" Bellrey, former Marion baseball player in the old Ohio State league, spoke briefly. He came from Jackson, Pa. to attend the banquet.

Edward J. Hummel, Ohio secretary of state, also attended and wished Marion success.

Telegram of regret at inability to attend were read from "Bob" Quinn, former Marion player and former president of the Boston Braves; Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the National Association of Minor Leagues; Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds; Eddie Gilliland, president of the Toledo Mud Hens; Al Banister, president of the Columbus Red Birds; Sam Brendon, president of St. Louis Cardinals and Frank McColley, president of the Ohio State league.

Quinn Remembers Marion Days Well

Bob Quinn has distinct memories of his early playing days in Marion, his telegram reveals. The wire brought out a few facts not generally known here. The every way. Bob Quinn."
